Mentee Guidelines
Seek guidance when needed.
Research questions first using the Listserv, Resource Manual and other resources.
Respect your mentor and their time – they are a volunteer, not a consultant.
Your mentor’s experience may not be the same as your situation; understand that they will refer you to other resources.
Participate in MMTA training events for professional development and peer networking.
Maintain confidentiality.
Do not expect your mentor to perform your job duties. If necessary, you should source professional service providers to provide dedicated assistance.
Contact the committee chair or association manager if the relationship or program does not meet your expectations.
Mentorship duration is one year.

I agree to comply with the above program guidelines. _____
